OR SELECTED RESIDENCE AND ACCOUNT OF THE SELECTED ACCOUNTS AND ACCOUNTS AND ACCOUNTS The Times' Daily Short Story.

(Original.)

"Dear old Mrs. Turnice! She was always trying to do something for me, always laying plans for my future. When I was left a penniless orphan at sixteen she took me to her home and treated me as a daughter. She was influenced hy this by the absence of her only child, a young man of twenty, who had just departed for a three years' course at a German university. She grew so fond of me that she conceived the idea of marrying me to her son, who would inherit her property. His likanesses were in every room in the house, and they were by no means unattractive.

When Adelbert Turnlee left Germany for home, I had just recovered from a fever, during which my head had been shaved, leaving it as smooth as a billiard ball, and at the time of his return my hair was about the length of that on a mouse's back. I thought I looked very piquant, but Mrs. Turnlee was greatly distressed. "How unfortunate," she exclaimed. "I know this temporary defect will turn Bert against you. He is artistic in his taste and readily influenced by beauty or defect. If your beautiful golden hair were its full length it alone might win him. What a pity! What a pity!"

The dear old lady was so disappointed that I set my wits to work to supply the deficiency. "What do you say to a wig?" I naked. "The very thing."

But she was in a quandary as to her son's favorite color for hair. He had expressed himself as averse either to black or blond or red, she couldn't remember which. But she found some thing he had written wherein occurred the words "beautiful Titian hair," and she concluded that the wig should be that color. The one she selected I thought to be too near a red, but as the hair merchant declared that it was from that hades tipted wig she is a true "Titian" Mrs. Turnice was convinced and paid an exorbitant price

Up to the time of the arrival of the expected victim 1 had taken little or no thought as to my own part in it, yielding to Mrs. Turnlee as I would but when I came to play the role of a fisher for a husband my uniden nature revolted. When Mrs. Turnice was present I succeeded in treating Adelto be of much consequence, for, though | if it was not you?" he seemed to enjoy chatting with me. I could not discover the slightest intell the truth, I was at a disadvantage fancy and"under my wig. I often caught Adelpression and suspected that he knew wish after all. I were a mask on my head. Be this

A SKIN OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER.

Popularity of the Walking Stick.

sticks have been more generally used by the gentlemen of the frock coat.

They will, however, be seen on all oc-ensions during the spring and summer season, says the Sartorial Art

Journal. The well groomed man carries his walking stick to business for man who spends but a few hours about the business district of town of white wainut stained with acid to the taste of the owner. English furze is very popular, as are likewise the Madagascar and cherry. Partridge wood and the pimienta are sought, and quite impossible to say what style of handle is most favored. Each is good if not clumsy in treatment. Thoroughbreds carry the cane for service rather

The Poverty Stricken Koreans.

"Not long ago I was in Korea and than to twirl in the hand.

For the past few years walking

Bouraud's Gream'

SANTON MANDELLE MANDE as it may, a month passed, during which I was convinced that as a "thing of beauty" I was not "a joy forever to Adelbert Turnlee. But we became excellent friends, and when we parted he deciared that he would miss my companionship very much. I took the polite speech for what I considered it worth and made one equally polite.

He returned to Europe to fit blueself for a professorship and was gone two years. Meanwhile my own luxuriant locks had grown to their full length, and as I stood combing them before the glass I confess I thought them very pretty. If they could only be a "Titian" and I could meet Mr. Turnice again, not feeling that I was trying to make a dupe of him, perhaps his mother might have her wish. I was quite sure he would not care for the pale shade of my natural hair, so much less pronounced than that of my castoff wig.

One day he came. His mother was very fil, and I had cabled for him. I did not expect him for several days after the day on which he arrived. I was holding his mother in my arms when the door opened, and he came hurriedly into the room. He cast an anxious glance at her, but it was impossible for him to keep his gaze fixed on ber, and he turned, for he had svidently been caught by my flaxen hair. "What in the name of"-

He stopped short and after kissing his mother affectionately asked a multitude of questions concerning her. When he had learned that she was convalescent and would soon be well he breathed a sigh of relief. Then he looked again at my hair. I explained the occasion of my having been obliged to don a wig to conceal my shaved "If you had chosen any color," he said, "except that frightful red I should have detected that which I now see so plainly. I detest red hair." "What do you see plainly?" asked

Mrs. Turnlee.

"Mother, you force me to spent too plainly. Now that your beloved is free very pretty girl."

"Hades tinted!" said the old lady feebly. "I thought it was 'Titian.' "

"I confess," Adelbert went on to me, "to an absurd prejudice I conceived for you on account of your hair. I noticed and admired you for those humor a child in getting up a charade, traits that endeared you to my mother, your unselfishness, your tact, your natural amiability, besides appreciatnever feel drawn toward a redheaded two paintings that made him famous, they may do so. bert fairly well, but when she was girl. I one night caught a glimpse of the "Kirghez Hend Hunters" and absent my demeanor at once became a mouse headed fairy flitting through "Russians Surprised by Tartars," were reserved. However, this did not seem the hall and was delighted. I wonder the result of this trip.

"It must have been."

"The image of that head has been bert looking at it with a singular ex- his heart. So the dear lady got her in which the artist was personally en- ing from savings, for the income of

ROSAMOND ALICIA BUDD.

QUEER JAPANESE RAILROAD. DE, T. FELIX GOURAUD'S OBJECTAL Its Motive Power is Furnished by

F. M. Dancy, in the office of the Southeastern Passenger association at Atlanta, gives an interesting account of a funny railroad in Japan where the motive power is furnished by men who run behind and push the cars up the steep grades, says the Atlanta Constitution. Describing the road, Mr. Dancy said: "The Japanese have a two foot gauge railroad from a station near Tokyo over a very hilly and crooked route along the sea for about twenty miles to a bathing resort where there FEED. I. HOPEINS, Prop'r, 37 Greet Jones St., R. L. are hot springs and the views of the sea are said to exceed even the loveliest shores of the Mediterranean.

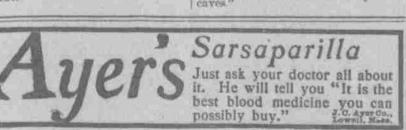

"The cars on this road are nearly cubical and too low for a European of ordinary height to stand in. The first class cars seat only four passengers. These are dispatched in what may be called convoys, usually of three, not coupled, but a few yards apart. "In front trots the conductor, blowing a horn to warn people at crossings, etc. service all through the day, and the The motive power on the up grades is furnished by three men pushing each likewise leans on his stick. Some are car. These men when a summit is reached mount the footboard by which the car is entered, and so coast down hill, on the long and steep ones at a terrific speed, which carries the car well up the opposite slope and frightens the oak is always in demand. It would be passengers half out of their wits. "At the turnouts Japanese girls serve tea and fruit to the passengers and trainmen allke, and on arriving at the terminus (the twenty mlies are usually made in four hours) the paswagen pushers with many reverences."

Leather Cannons in Tibetan Warfare got a close view of the condition of the A cablegram from London to the Washington Star says: "Further reports of the fighting between the British expedition and the Tibetans on April 10 speak of leather cannons that were used by the Tibe'ans. A continnous fire from these antiquated wearcloud interrupted the fighting. The bristles with problems, but they are Gurkhas attached to the expedition Tibetans continued the firing, but did hunting savages. They are apparentno harm. They finally fled in terror. It intractable and are continually har-Many of them were found biding in assing workers on ten plantations and people," said Mr. A. McKenzie of Edinburgh to a Washington Post reporter. "In all my travels I never saw such a poverty stricken people as the Koreans. They are just one degree removed from the starvation mark all the time. In fact, it is hardly possible for them to get to any sort of af- one was absolutely harmless. A snow fluent condition, for the minute one shows the least sign of prosperity forthwith the government swoops down on him and taxes him back to poverty. They simply cannot escape their pau-

Mrs. Hughson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKRAM :- I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was poor, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. tired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be."—Mas. M. E. HUGHSON, 347 East Ohio St. Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfatt if original of above latter grouing general-ness cannot be produced.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

VERESCHAGIN IN BATTLE.

Bravery of the Russian Artist In an Asiatic Campulgo.

The late Vassill Vereschagin, the distinguished Russian artist and greatest of modern battle palaters, accompanied 200 yea. Every actor is giving 50 sen families. General Kauffman, who undertook the conquest of Tartary, Bokhara and the Pamirs, pushing the Russian domain up to the very gate of India, says the Washington Post. M. Vereschagin accompanied the expedition, remaining ing your intellectual gifts. But I could throughout the entire campaign. The cutting down on the family table that > ing as trophles back to their encampvance goard of cavalry and taking fallen off greatly.

this was that he was cut off from the an officer of the detachment, who had mouth." been seriously wounded and had fallen from his horse. With magnificent courage Vereschagin, stunned and his face covered with blood, sprang to his feet and, standing over the prostrate form of the wounded officer, emptied two revolvers, ten shots in all, at the mob of howling Tartars closing in on them, bringing down a savage at every shot. The timely appearance on the scene of

Later in this same campaign Vereschagin made bis temporary headquarters in the ancient Tariar city of Samarkand, in Asia. The city had fallen into the hands of the Russlans only a short time before his arrival, and General Kauffman, thinking that a small garrison would be sufficient to hold it, left the place in charge of 500 Russians and departed with the main body of the army to reduce Bokhara. A fewdays later a force of 20,000 Tartars appeared on the scene and laid siege to the town. Vereschagin held no command whatever, but rather than see the Russians lose this important stronghold be assumed command and for five days held out against the oversengers part from the conductors and whelming force of Tartars until General Kauffman, to whom word had been sent, returned to the relief of the beleaguered city. with the cross of St. George, the highest military bonor conferred by the Russian government.

Outlook For Formosa.

Japan's first experience in colonial administration is greatly to her credit, says the New York Journal. Formosa being handled with judgment and skill. ceased fighting and lighted fires. The The interior is peopled with head in the camphor camps. The prisons are models of industry and cleanliness; fine hospitals, where advanced scientific work is going on, have been established in various centers; railroads are being constructed. Keelung is fortified, and its fine harbor is being deepened, and for the first time in her turbulent career Formosa seems to have a quiet and prosperous future

JAPAN'S JOY IN GIVING.

Whole Nation Contributing to the War Funds.

AMUSEMENT HOUSES DESERTED

Both Rich and Poor Are Stinging Themselves in Every Possible Way For the Sake of the Nen at the Front and Their Families-Women of Every Class Economising to All. Directions-Remarkable Cases of Self Sacrifice.

Japan is stinting itself as America did during the civil war and for the same double purpose-that the armics may be kept in the field and the burdens of those dependent on the nation's defenders lessened if not altogether removed, says the Tokyo correspondent of the Washington Star. There is pressing need of national and individuni self sacrifice at this time. Already over 2,000 families of soldiers in Tokyo alone are dependent upon the untion's charity for their daily bread-or rice, rather-and what is true in the enpital is true throughout Nippon.

Japan is stinting from top to bottom. The high officials, peers and aristocrats have declared off all social engagements. The geisha houses are deserted, and many of them have closed from lack of patronage. So it is with the restaurants. Feasts there and in private houses-the Japanese are ordinarily great indulgers in feasts-are now the uncommon happening. Indeed, there has been no public feast of private one-since the second day after the first battle at Port Arthur, when the emperor entertained the high officials in celebration of the victory. That has been the single indulgence of

The public school teachers have voluntarily agreed to give over to the vatheir salaries as long as the war lasts. a month. The messenger boys have banded together and so far contributed 250 yen, at the rate of 70 to 80 sen a month apiece, for caring for wounded soldiers. The carpenters' wives are forming associations in every precinct and giving according to their means,

In Shitaya precinct-a precinct corresponds to an American ward-the janitors in the office buildings have agreed The first is a life size painting of a to cut down on their living expenses group of wild Kirghez Tartars who and give 20 sen (10 cents) per head a have ridden down and captured some week till peace comes again. In the dication of a loverlike emotion. To with me for ten years. It caught my Russians, whose heads they are carry precinct of Shimbashi the Geisha association of 170 odd houses is contribut-Later he told me that it had caught ment. The other represents an action ing 200 year a month, most of this com-hasty sketches of the central Asia to. The women, irrespective of class, are man and escape. But no word has end of the equipage, instead of winpography, they were suddenly surround. economizing in all directions. The Lacome from Kinebuchi, and no trace can dows, is a massive mahogany cabinet ded and cut off by a large body of Tar-dies'. One Heart society—the Fujiu be got of him, and the belief is gradu containing beveled mirrors incased in tar cavalry. A bloody engagement fol- Isshiunki-is representative of their or- ally increasing that he has been caught beavy bronze, with a rack for leacups lowed, both sides nighting desperately, ganizations. This society embraces the by the Russians and executed as a and brica-brac. for in this campaign neither side gave women of the middle class, and its apy members are saving on their food and The artist was thrown to the ground their hairdressing and bath money, and almost killed as a result of his They visit the baths only once a week horse being shot and instantly killed now instead of daily. Indeed, every running at full speed. The result of member must make it a point to save something daily for "a bandage for a command, along with one of his friends, soldier's leg or rice for his mother's

Those who cannot pare their expenses because they are down to the bone already are stinting themselves of their leisure time. The errand boys of with their animals they industriously the wholesale and retail districts have formed an association to make straw sandals for the soldlers after working hours. Each boy manufactures about fifty pairs a week. Some of the boys, not content with this sacrifice, beg the main column was all that saved the waste paper from the stores and go around peddling it, getting 2 cents for every ten pounds of paper and turning the proceeds into a common fund.

The doctors, masseurs and midwives are giving their services free of charge to the families of soldiers, and the rickshaw man, Mukubata Jisaburo, who saved the crar's life when the latter, as czarowitz, was traveling in Japan. is contributing the pension which the Russian government granted him for his net. He says it is the only way by which he can ease his conscience for receiving money from the nation's enemy at such a time.

Indeed, Nippon is so imbued with the spirit of self sacrifice that it gets well nigh hysterical at times to give. This was illustrated a few days ago when Sonoda Kokichi, formerly president of the Yokohama Specie bank of Japan, during the course of a lecture before the Kokumin Kouyenkal (the Mutual For this he was decorated by the czar Ald Society For Citizens), called upon the assembled nobles, merchants and bankers to give their jewelry for the amelloration of the conditions among Instantly the audience was in an uproar-gold watches, rings, pins, all sorts of personal ornaments, were literally being torn from their fastenings and thrown at the speaker. Several hundred pieces of jewelry, valued at a good many thousand yen, were contributed in a few minutes, and when the meeting was over hardly a person left the hall with a bit of jewelry showing about him. Since then, as one of the newspapers quaintly puts ft, "even the officials are afraid to wear rings for fear of being called the models of fools."

Mr. Sonoda has been one of the heavfest individual contributors to the ald societies. The day after the demonstration at his lecture he gave seven gold watches, a chain and 18,000 yen

The Soap That Outshines All Is

Sunlight

The kettles and pans, the tins or dishes, when washed with Sunlight Soap sparkle and shine. Sunlight brightens everything in the household and injures nothing, for Sunlight is absolutely pure.

ASK FOR "LAUNDRY" SHAPE SUNLIGHT

in money. Mr. Sonoda's liberality has made him one of the most popular citizens of Tokyo today.

A banking, mining and dry goods | house, which has American and London branches, has, perhaps, made the interesting in China that the empress any sort-and, I dare say, scarcely a largest single contribution - 100,000 dowager and the rest of the imperial yen, or $50,000.

which have been made largely to the Red Cross society, the foreigners are parture in automobiles made in Geruniversally acclaimed. Miss Ethel many, says Frederic William Wile, the Howard, the English governess in the Berlin correspondent of the Chicago family of Marquis Shimadzu, a fendal News. Three magnificent motor wagtord, is being blessed by the soldiers' rious soldiers' aid societies one-tenth of families, who have somehow heard of have recently been built in Berlin by her letter to her employer's atterney order of the Chinese government, and The housewives in many precincts of in which she states that she declines to a German engineer has landed at Tien-Tokyo are giving their pin money. In accept her salary for six months, wish- tsin for the purpose of initiating . one precinct they recently contributed ing it to be used to succor soldiers' corps of Chinese chauffeurs and me

But the man who has given his all ing. distress of his countrymen who were cars ever constructed. All exterior of the country and arranged with German steamers to pick up the refugees background. at the different ports and carry them to Nagasaki.

mained in Harbin, saying that he nificent revolving armchair upholstered would not leave until every Jap in in yellow silk, with gold trimmings, gaged. Riding one day with an ad- these houses, as already remarked, has Manchuria was safe. Then, he said, does service as a throne in these minhe would disguise himself as a China- lature palaces on wheels. At the front come one of the heroes of the war, the streets. The country people are lly. bringing their horses by the hundreds into town as their contributions to the welfare of the nation. Before parting comb their manes, lavishingly caress them, call them a multitude of pet names and bid them goodby at length. "And the horses," says the Jiji Shimbum, "seem to appreciate the words of their masters and droop their heads in

Effacing of Scars,

CHINESE ROYAL AUTOS.

Imperial Family's Three Touring Cars Are Fitted Like Palaces.

If Japan and Russia make things so family consider it desirable to beat a By reason of their contributions, hasty retreat from Peking, it is altogether likely they will take their deons of the omnibus touring car type chanics into the mysteries of motor-for the succor of his fellow countrymen | For the present the automobiles will s Kinebuchi Sei ichiro, head of a com- be used to convey the members of the pany doing business in Manchuria and imperial family between the winter Siberia. He was worth 40,000 rubles and summer palaces at Peking. They when the war broke out. He saw the are probably the most huxurlous motor in Harbin with him, and be knew of metal on theur is highly polished nicktheir suffering elsewhere in the en el or brass, while the woodwork is the emy's country. So he took his money, richest mahogany, embossed with the gave enough to each Jap to get him out | Chinese imperial arms, the dragon and sun, in colors upon an inlaid yellow

The interior is furnished in saloon fushion, the sides consisting of yellow In this way hundreds of Japs feach- plush bordered in solid gold. The floors ed home in safety, but Kinebuchi re- are covered with Persian rugs, A mag-

The rear end of the automobiles is If such is the case, it is safe to as curtained off by heavy yellow allk porsume from the way even the rick tieres as a separate apartment for shaw men are now praising Kine- members of the suit accompanying the buchi's generous act that he will be empress downger or the emperor, as Chinese court etiquette does not per-One of the most unusual features of | mit any one to remain long in a room this eastnsy of giving is seen daily on with any member of the imperial fam-

Mennee of the Boll Weevil.

Dr. L. O. Howard, chief entomologist of the United States department of agriculture, says the boll weevil cannot be exterminated and that it is only a question of time when it will invade every one of the cotton states. Plowing their fields in the autumn and keeping up a constant study of and warfare against their enemy are, he says, the only remedy the cotton planters have against the post. Man has often been British officers are having the scars | confronted, however, with somewhat of face wounds removed by the use similar conditions, and, notwithstandof light rays. The London Mail says, ing Dr. Howard's prediction, it seems "The custom is rapidly growing of probable that some effective remedy surgeons sending their patients to have may yet be found against even this the sears left by operations removed." | minute foe.

SPECIAL SALE UPRIGHT PIANOS

คุรสาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาราชาวิจาร

STEINWAY.

HUME, JEWETT, SHONINGER, WOODBURY AND CURTIS.

The Orchestrelle and The Pianola.

The finest Piano self-players in the world. These instruments are entirely new and have just been received from The M. Steinert & Sons Co., Boston, the largest Piano Emporium in the world.

M. STEINERT & SONS CO., New Eng. Representatives. STEINERT HALL, BOSTON, MASS.

Mr. H. C. INGALLS, Local Representative, Sheet Music For Sale. No. 307 North Main Street, Barre, Vt.

Citizens of Barre and vicinity are invited to call and inspect, whether they intend to purchase or not. Prices and terms reasonable.